

Re: The Idea Should Have Been Aborted

Dear Editor,

John Divinski shows more concern for his comfort than for the children depicted in the 'Show the Truth' posters that were brutally killed and dismembered. It is amazing how quickly journalists retreat to a call for censorship in the face of the slaughter of innocents. It reminds me of how the American government tried to keep pictures of American casualties of the Iraqi war off television because it might hurt support for the war. It seems the last thing we should see is pictures of Canadian casualties of the War on Children.
