
Letters to the Editor

Pitiful indeed!

To the editor:

I'm writing in response to the anonymous editorial of July 9, "Sickening."

The writer was sickened and shocked by the graphic pictures of aborted babies displayed by the Pro-Life group Show the Truth Canada and end by stating, "It's a pity we don't have a law which forbids the public display of such revolting photographs."

Obviously, the author has no problem with the law which allows the killing of the most innocent and defenceless humans. Pitiful indeed.
